The Earle-Wightman House

Oyster Bay Historical Society

As one of the oldest surviving houses on Long Island and a Town Landmark, the Earle-Wightman house has witnessed all of Oyster Bay's remarkable history. The home offers three interpreted rooms, a rotating exhibition space, and a gift shop featuring works from Long Island artists and historians.

The Windfall Gift Shop

Browse through our gift shop for souvenir maps, books, textiles, and ceramics.

Photographs taken by Elizabeth Roosevelt are also available.

The historic house and exhibit space are open to the public:

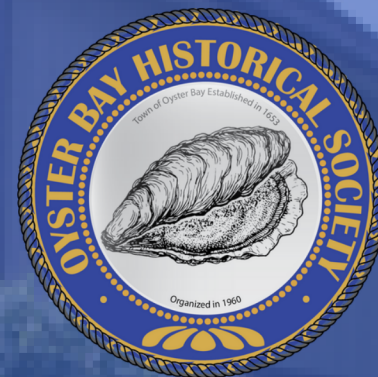

Tuesday through Friday	10AM-2PM
Saturday	11AM-3PM
Sunday	1PM-4PM

The research library is open by appointment. Suggested donation of $5.00 per visitor.

ANGELA KOENIG RESEARCH CENTER LIBRARY AND ARCHIVE

The research library contains over 750 volumes, 600 manuscripts, 500 photographs, maps, and documents. With a fine collection of genealogical and architectural materials, the history of Oyster Bay is preserved in a state-of-the-art repository whose exterior design is a tribute to the barns and grist mills that once supported our early farming community.

To schedule an appointment email us at obhslibrary@optonline.net.

PUBLIC PROGRAMS

Throughout the year the Oyster Bay Historical Society provides educational programs for lifetime learners including lectures, workshops, classes and concerts. School groups and organizations are welcome.

OUR MISSION

The Society's sworn duty is to collect, preserve, and make accessible to everyone, artifacts, books, documents, records, photographs and other materials pertinent to the history and development of Oyster Bay. The Society looks to stimulate and educate the community through exhibitions, programs, and publications designed to interpret our past, to reflect on our future, and to bring our history to life in the present.

THE GARDEN

The eighteenth century garden was restored by the North Country Garden Club in 1991-1992, and is maintained by their members. Like many gardens of the period, it features herbs used for medicinal purposes, cooking, or for their fragrance.
